An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The fund's sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time.*

Cash alternatives are not federally guaranteed and may lose value. Cash alternative portfolios have interest rate, inflation, and credit risks that are associated with the underlying assets owned by the portfolio.

Bond prices generally fall when interest rates rise (and vice versa) and are subject to risks, including changes in credit quality, market valuations, inflation, liquidity and default. High-yield bonds have a greater risk of default.

The interest from Treasury inflation-protected securities (TIPS) is adjusted periodically according to the Consumer Price Index. The return from TIPS may understate the actual rate of inflation due to changes in the bond's underlying price.

U.S. Treasury securities are neither issued nor guaranteed by the U.S. government.

Separately managed accounts are not registered investment products but separate accounts created specifically for the plan. Separately managed funds are not required to file a prospectus or registration statement with the SEC and, accordingly, neither is available.

A collective trust stable value fund is offered by a bank or trust company and has interest rate, inflation and credit risks. The wrap contract, which provides book-value guarantees, is subject to the claims-paying ability of the insurer.

Foreign securities involve risks, such as currency fluctuations, economic changes and political developments. These risks may be heightened in emerging markets, which may also experience liquidity risk.

Gross expense ratios are the funds' total annual operating costs expressed as a percentage of the funds' average net assets over a given time period. They are gross of any fee waivers or expense reimbursements. Net expense ratios are the expense ratios after the application of any voluntary or contractual waivers or reimbursements and are the actual ratios that investors paid during the funds' most recent fiscal year. Expense ratios are subject to change.

Morningstar rankings are based on total return and do not reflect of sales charges, which, if reflected, would reduce returns.

The date in a target date fund's name represents an approximate date when an investor is expected to retire (which is assumed to be at age 65) and/or begins withdrawing money. The principal value of the funds is not guaranteed at any time, including the target date. For more information, please refer to the fund prospectus and/or disclosure document. A target date fund will gradually shift its emphasis from more aggressive investments to more conservative ones based on its target date (which is the assumed retirement date for an investor).

Asset allocation and balanced investment options and models are subject to the risks of the underlying investments, which can be a mix of stocks/stock funds and bonds/bond funds. For more information, see the prospectus and/or disclosure documents.

Commodity and real asset investments may be affected by natural disasters and political and economic developments.

Real estate securities and trusts involve risks, including declining property values, changes in zoning laws or losses from casualty. Real estate securities that invest in foreign real estate involve additional risks, including currency fluctuations and political developments.

Securities of small and mid-size companies may be more volatile than those of larger, more established companies.

Investment return and principal value of a variable investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost.

There is no guarantee that companies that can issue dividends will declare, continue to pay, or increase dividends.

The JPMCB SmartRetirement Funds indirectly bear their proportionate share of the operating expenses of any underlying funds in which they may invest (excluding management fees and service fees).

The Trustee of the JPMCB SmartRetirement Funds agrees to reimburse the Fund for such fund operating expenses, and/or to waive a portion of the Trustee's management fee, to the extent that the fund's total annual operating expenses (excluding management fees, service fees, underlying fund fees attributable to dividend and interest expenses on short sales, interest, expenses related to litigation and potential litigation, and extraordinary expenses not incurred in the ordinary course of the Fund's business) exceeds 0.04% of the Fund's average daily new assets through the expense cap expiration date.

The price of equity securities may rise or fall because of changes in the broad market or changes in a company's financial condition, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably. These price movements may result from factors affecting individual companies, sectors or industries selected for the Fund's portfolio or the securities market as a whole, such as changes in economic or political conditions. Equity securities are subject to "stock market risk" meaning that stock prices in general (or in particular, the prices of the types of securities in which a fund invests) may decline over short or extended periods of time. When the value of a fund's securities goes down, an investment in a fund decreases in value.

A benchmark index is not actively managed, does not have a defined investment objective, and does not incur fees or expenses. Therefore, performance of a fund will generally be less than its benchmark index. You cannot invest directly in a benchmark index.

The guaranteed fund is a general account group annuity contract issued by Great-West Life & Annuity Insurance Company or, in New York, by Great-West Life & Annuity Insurance Company of New York that guarantees principal and credited interest for eligible participant-initiated withdrawals and transfers. The guarantee is backed by the general assets of the insurance company issuing the contract. The strength of the guarantee is dependent on the financial strength of the insurance company issuing the contract. Depending on the terms of the contract and/or the contract form, there may also be investment risks associated with certain plan sponsor actions, including but not limited to a termination of the contract that could result in a negative market value adjustment to the proceeds paid to the plan sponsor or an extended payment period. For more information, please contact Empower Retirement or refer to the contract.
