An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The fund's sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time.

Cash alternatives are not federally guaranteed and may lose value. Cash alternative portfolios have interest rate, inflation, and credit risks that are associated with the underlying assets owned by the portfolio. Compared to higher rated securities, high yield bond investment options are subject to greater risk, including the risk of default.

Capital preservation funds are not federally guaranteed and may lose value. They have interest rate, inflation and credit risks that are associated with the underlying assets owned by the portfolio or fund. Certain underlying funds invest in inflation protected bonds ("TIPS"). Unlike conventional bonds, the principal or interest of TIPS is adjusted periodically to a specified rate of inflation (e.g., Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers [CPI-U]). There can be no assurance that the inflation index used will accurately measure the actual rate of inflation.

Separately managed accounts are not registered investment products but separate accounts created specifically for the plan. Separately managed funds are not required to file a prospectus or registration statement with the SEC and, accordingly, neither is available. A collective fund is not a mutual fund and is exempt from SEC registration. Designed for and exclusively sold to qualified retirement plans and their participants, the funds are not available to individual retail investors.

Foreign investments involve special risks, including currency fluctuations, taxation differences and political developments. Equity securities of companies located in emerging markets involve greater risks than investing in more established markets, including currency fluctuations, political developments and share illiquidity.

Disclosures

When shown, Morningstar ratings are based on total return and do not reflect of sales charges, which, if reflected, would reduce returns.

The date in a target date fund's name represents an approximate date when an investor is expected to retire (which is assumed to be at age 65) and/or begins withdrawing money. The principal value of the funds is not guaranteed at any time, including the target date. For more information, please refer to the fund prospectus and/or disclosure document. A target date fund will gradually shift its emphasis from more aggressive investments to more conservative ones based on its target date (which is the assumed retirement date for an investor).

Asset allocation and balanced investment options and models are subject to the risks of the underlying investments, which can be a mix of stocks/stock funds and bonds/bond funds. For more information, see the prospectus and/or disclosure documents.

The value of commodity-linked investments may be affected by financial factors, political developments and natural disasters. As such, investment options that invest primarily in commodities may experience greater volatility than investments in traditional securities.

Equity securities of small and mid-sized companies may be more volatile than securities of larger, more established companies.

Real estate securities and trusts involve greater risks than other non-diversified investments, including but not limited to: declining property values, varying economic conditions, changes in zoning laws, or losses from casualty. Real estate securities that invest in foreign real estate involve additional risk, including currency fluctuations and political developments.

There is no guarantee that companies that can issue dividends will declare, continue to pay, or increase dividends.

The price of equity securities may rise or fall because of changes in the broad market or changes in a company's financial condition, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably. These price movements may result from factors affecting individual companies, sectors or industries selected for the Fund's portfolio or the securities market as a whole, such as changes in economic or political conditions. Equity securities are subject to "stock market risk" meaning that stock prices in general (or in particular, the prices of the types of securities in which a fund invests) may decline over short or extended periods of time. When the value of a fund's securities goes down, an investment in a fund decreases in value.
